SCHOOL NOTES

The Grade IX is organizing itself into a Junior Red Cross. This class has only seven members, but they hope to do some worthwhile work.

Between 3rd October and 14th November the pupils of the school have invested $53.75 in War Savings Stamps. The Strathmore School Board puts the last stamp on all certificates.

LEGION HOLD ARMISTICE SMOKER

Gathering together for the 23rd celebration of the signing of the Armistice, the Local Branch of the Legion held a most successful smoker last Tuesday evening. While Nov. 11th has lost some of its meaning as far as the sociable part of it is concerned, the annual get-together of veterans and their friends is always an occasion not to be missed. This year the members had in mind to have as their guests the fathers of the boys on active service. The invitation was a personal one and there was a fine turn out, but they feel that some must have been overlooked, and plan that next time an endeavour should be made to have them all present. The fact that there were so many there made the event a real family affair.

Col. N. D. Dingle, guest speaker for the occasion, is no stranger to Strathmore, and his address was timely and to the point. Reviewing Canada's war effort so far, he said it was good, in many ways excellent in comparison, but more was needed. He detailed how strongly the enemy is entrenched, and stated that without an all out effort on our part, every man and woman doing their best to win with no thought of sacrifice we could not hope to be victorious. The need was great and the hour to make our decision had arrived.

J. Souter, an old Strathmoreite, now of Nanton, the Zone Representative recalled the early struggles he had taken part in when the hall was being built, and welcomed the opportunity to again see the old familiar faces at the same tasks as when he left.

S. G. Petley, Provincial Secretary of the Legion, in his brief and straightforward talk impressed the gathering with the need to get behind the Total War Effort. He earnestly requested everyone to write or wire the Dominion Prime Minister or our member of Parliament calling on them to take action and state our views. In this way and this way only would we rouse them into action. The task of the Legion in looking after the ex-service men of the present war was detailed and some of the problems to be faced were discussed in the light of his experience.

M. Baird opened the musical part of the programme, and for the remainder of the evening, Cpl. Fursy tickled the ivories to any and all tunes requested.

G. H. Patrick had some new songs, put over in fine style.

Sgt. Hansen (Baby Snooks) was to say the least an unusual artist, and kept the audience filled with laughter. The encores were many and we look forward to seeing more of this variety of talent.

There were other singers in a variety of keys with lots of volume who were too numerous and modest to have any mention made of them.

C. E. Way chairman for the evening was sincere in his welcoming remarks.

Bob Gray of course was in charge of things to eat, and came through as usual with flying colors. Jimmy Swanson had ample assistance to see that no one went thirsty.

Another celebration over, and another memory to recall good fun and fellowship.

HOCKEY CLUB RE-ORGANIZES

Warm support was given the carrying on of the hockey club again this year, at a meeting of committee and players held Wednesday night in the Town Hall.

Last year's president, George Palardy, opened the meeting with a report of the year's operations, thanking the members of the executive for their enthusiastic support, and also a number of other citizens whose co-operation, he said, made the game much easier. The financial standing as shown by the secretary, indicated a much improved basis over last year's.

President Palardy was re-elected president again for this year, by acclamation, amid general suggestions that since the first year "was always the hardest," this year he would just be coasting through. Vice-president Holmes and financial secretary Hill were also both reinstated by acclamation. The executive consists of Messrs. T. E. Wright, M. A. Bellinger, A. Mercer, N. Hansen and C. E. Way. T. E. Wright was elected a commit-

Sixteen teachers evenly divided between men and ladies attended the meeting of the ow Valley Sub-Local of the A. T. A. here on Wednesday, Nov. 12. It was decided to postpone the observance of Educational Week until the last week in January. It was also decided not to hold a Festival this term. The value and importance of the Home and School Association was emphasized more than once during the discussions of the evening. Future meetings will be held mostly in Strathmore.

Red Cross Auction Sale—

Ninety-three dollars was the amount realized from the auction sale last Saturday plus ten dollars from sale of lunches, making a total of $103.00.

The crowd wasn't very large but there were some enthusiastic bidders. Donations for the sale included miscellaneous articles ranging from shirts and shoes to poultry and pup pies.

A Turkey gobbler was among the donations of poultry.

Mr. Colan Park was the auctioneer assisted by Mr. Melendy, C. Peterson officiated as clerk and W. Slater as cashier.

People were in a happy mood despite the chilly weather and the occasion provided lots of fun, humor and excitement. Donations of vegetables including carrots, cabbage, potatoes, beets, parsnips and squash were easily disposed of.

Other articles included golf sticks, gas-lamps, gas-gloves, books, dishes, kitchen utensils, one large gramophone, baby's high chair, go-cart, plant stand, chairs, tank heater, curtain stretchers, fishing rods, etc.

The officers and members of the local branch take this opportunity of thanking all those who donated and purchased the donations for their patronage and co-operation, also the ladies who provided the lunch.

This effort will go a long way towards covering the deficit of the local branch.

In the period from January 1st to Oct. 15th of this year our Red Cross Branch has shipped 367 knitted articles and 583 sewing articles to the Alberta Division. Of the 367 knitted articles 155 were for the armed forces and 212 for civilian relief and Women's Auxiliary Services. Of the 583 sewing articles 81 were hospital supplies and 502 for civilian relief including 12 quilts.

Mrs. Gillespie has a lot of material on hand to be made up into dresses for two year old girls and help is urgently needed to get this work done immediately as we are behind in our quota. Are you doing your share?

THE 'OUT-SIDE'

● When delegates to the annual meeting of the Alberta Wheat Pool gather Friday evening, November 25, for their annual banquet they will be addressed by one of the greatest figures in the history of co-operative movements in Canada.

This outstanding speaker is Archbishop J. H. MacDonald of Edmonton diocese, formerly of St. Francis Xavier university, who has played a leading part in the formation of the vast co-operative enterprises in Nova Scotia, especially the fishermen's organization.

With the archbishop's acceptance of the invitation to address the Wheat Pool men, convention plans are now ready for the finishing touches.

● Prime Minister Churchill was asked by the National Association of Manufacturers to be the principal speaker Dec. 5th at the banquet closing its annual convention in New York. The speech would be via telephone from No. 10 Downing Street to the Waldorf-Astoria hotel before a loudspeaker set on an otherwise empty rostrum.

● Where does Hitler get his men for his Russian campaign? He gets them releasing them from work in the Reich and replacing them with captives. The human side of this story is just beginning to be told. Even before the Russian campaign, the Nazis admitted that 1,550,000 civilian foreigners and 1,350,000 prisoners of war were at work for the German war machine.

Mr. Justice Ford has been appointed chancellor of the University of Alberta, succeeding A. C. Rutherford whose death occurred last June.

● In winning La Guardia, New York's ninety-ninth mayor since 1665, set some records. He is the first to win three consecutive terms and the first to win three terms in the forty-three years of the greater city. He has twice broken the tradition that Tammany always comes back, a tradition established after 1871 by five reform administrations which could not succeed themselves.

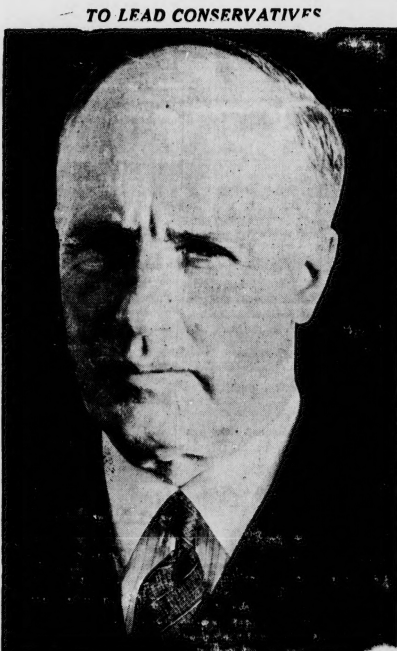

● The man who begins to say it can't be done is often interrupted by someone doing it.

Another Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey circus elephant, making nine in all, died at Atlanta of arsenic poisoning. Officials have been unable to discover how poison got into the diet of the elephants, each of which is valued at from $10,000 to $15,000.

ROCKYFORD

— By K. M. G. —

The Rockyford Red Cross Women's Auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. Piggins on Wednesday, November 12. The president Mrs. McLuhan conducted the business of the day. Great activity is shown in the sewing and knitting and a large shipment of completed articles will be sent in to Headquarters shortly. The next meeting will be held on Friday, December 5th, the change in day being necessary owing to other activities on the regular date. After the regular business of the day, Mrs. Piggins and her daughter Mrs. J. Heinzlmeier served the regulation lunch to a large crowd.

morning, November 11th when Miss Annie Marie, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Damen of Strathmore became the bride of Mr. Albert F. Stark, eldest son of Mrs. J. Stina of Tudor. Rev. Father Killen, P. P. of Rockyford officiated. The bride looked very charming in her pale blue floor length dress with veil and accessories to match. She carried a beautiful bouquet of blue and pink roses. She was assisted by her cousin Miss Blanch Damen, who chose as her color, pale rose with matching accessories and carried deeper colored roses. The groom was supported by his cousin Ralph Stinn, and the bride was given in marriage by her father. After a short honeymoon the happy couple will make their home in Rockyford where Mr. Stark is engaged as grain buyer for the Searle Grain Co.

The Rockyford United Church Ladies Aid held a busy meeting in the Church basement on Thursday, Nov. 13, when the fall shower in aid of the coming bazaar was held. A splendid display of gifts were received. The business of the day was conducted by Mrs. A. L. Williams, 1st vice president, and many plans were made for the bazaar to be held in the hall on Tuesday, December 2. Mrs. L. Roppel and Mrs. Tomate will convene the dining room and Mrs. Poole, the kitchen, while Mrs. S. Roppel, Mrs. G. Roppel, Mrs. R. Bragg and Miss Eva Piggins will have the booths in charge. The school girls will take charge of the candy shop. At the social hour Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Stone, Mrs. S. and Mrs. G. Roppel served a delightful lunch to over forty guests.

A very pleasant evening was spent at Tudor Hall on Friday, November 14th when the Rockyford-Tudor communities combined in a shower for the newly married couple Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stark. Dancing was enjoyed by a real crowd, and at the midnight hour friends provided a grand lunch.

LANGDON

— By M. E. M. —

W. D. Braden was a recent visitor to Winnipeg, he being the Langdon delegate to the U. G. G. convention.

A large crowd enjoyed the supper in the I. O. O. F. Hall on November 14th. After supper Mr. Harold Taylor auctioned the articles brought by the people and everything sold for a good price. A good sum was added to the funds of the local Red Cross Society which sponsored the successful affair. The society appreciates very much the help given by all.

A pleasant party was held at the home of Mrs. K. Albertson recently when the members of the Women's Institute entertained for Mrs. M. Forgie and Mrs. Albertson. Both ladies were presented with brooches by the W. I. president, Mrs. G. Buntain. Birthday cakes and a delicious lunch were served. The secretary Mrs. E. Moe was honored with a handkerchief shower. All the recipients were very appreciative as all were very much surprised and needless to say very pleased with such a happy afternoon.

A large table was laden with beautiful gifts and also a fine case of silverware was presented at this time.

AIRGRAPH SYSTEM

The Standard wishes to draw the attention of its readers to the new Airgraph System being introduced on November 15 by the Post Office Department of Canada.

The cost of sending an Airgraph message is only ten cents—payable in postage stamps at your local Post office. The letter must also be written on a form which is available after November 15th at your local Post Office. The letter is not to be sent in an envelope, but handed unfolded to the Postmaster for transmission to Toronto where it is specially photographed and then sent over seas to the person to whom it is addressed.

For the present, this means of sending letters applies only to men on active service overseas, not to civilians in England.

Make enquiries about this new speedy, space-conserving method of sending a message overseas, and write to that boy on Active Service today. A letter from home will be welcomed by him!

A. T. A. MEETING AT CARSELAND

The regular meeting of the Bow Valley Sub-Local of the A. T. A. was held in Carceland on Wednesday, 12 November.

Seventeen were present. It was decided to hold all future meetings in Strathmore, this will not preclude meetings in other schools if invitations are forthcoming.

The teachers of the area will reserve the week of January 26-31 as Education Week.

An effort will be made at the Easter Convention to persuade the teachers of the Province to sponsor regional Field and Track Meets, under the control of the School Boards and teachers of the Province.

The programme took the form of a round-table discussion on the following — "The amount of grammar in the courses of study in relation to the amount of grammar the pupil is expected to know to pass Grade IX and XII Departmental Examinations. The discussion was introduced by the Carceland teachers with Mr. Worger acting as chairman.

After the adjournment lunch was served by the Carceland teachers.

COLLEGE BOYS BETTER FOR BEING SCOUTS

When conferring the degree of L.L.D. upon Dr. James E. West, Chief Scout Executive of the Boy Scouts of America, President W. H. Cowley of Hamilton College, Clinton, N. Y., declared that "In every Hamilton class of the last quarter century there have been many who are better men for having been Boy Scouts."

SCOUT APPROVAL FROM MAYOR LAGUARDIA

"I want you to know how much I appreciate the fine service rendered by the Boy Scouts of America in the recent Aluminum Campaign. The splendid co-operation of Executive, Scout leaders and Troops in collecting aluminum for defence purposes has been a major contribution to the success of the campaign. Their generous support of this programme is another evidence of the fine principles and high standards which identify the Boy Scouts." F. LaGuardia, Mayor.

EMPLOYMENT FOR WOMEN

To offset a shortage of stenographers and typists the civil service commission announced that married women up to 60 years will be permitted to try examinations for appointment as temporary grade one clerks.

MADE-IN-ALBERTA WEEK

WE are proud and have a just feeling of elation when we begin to enumerate the many natural products of the Province of Alberta, and the many and varied articles that are manufactured herein. It is a list of no mean magnitude. Next week we hope to give a fairly complete list of these manufactured articles.

Our Province ranks high on the ladder of natural wealth.

We recall an after dinner address made by Premier McBride in Victoria some years ago when he extolled the many advantages of B. C. They seemed to tower above all other Provinces and there seemed little left for the other eight.

We suppose Premiers Godbout or Hepburn could give a similar enchanting list. This is as it should be and we are in no wise jealous, on the contrary we have a feeling of intense gratification that our Dominion is so rich in nature's stores.

Hence while advocating the Buy Alberta Goods to a large extent we do not advocate this policy to the exclusion of other Provinces.

A freer trade intercourse makes for general prosperity for the Dominion, from which we shall reap our share along with the other Provinces.

CANADA'S PART

Editorial from The New York Times
 November 3rd, 1941

IN his conversations with President Roosevelt at Hyde Park the Canadian Prime Minister could very appropriately, and doubtless did, lay before the President impressive details of his country's all-out war effort. It has been no mean accomplishment. In fact, looked at against the background of the Dominion's limited population, peacetime preoccupation with anything but armament and previous scant development of vast natural resources, the achievement is one of the little appreciated miracles of this war. There is good reason for the statement that the American people do not realize the full extent of Canadian sacrifices.

Out of every dollar earned by a Canadian at the present time more than 60 cents goes to Government. Of that 60 cents 43 are expended in the war effort, 25 cents going directly to Canada's own war expenses and the remaining 18 to pay for the supplies furnished to Great Britain by her loyal sister Dominion. The 17 cents left are used in necessary Government expenses. Aside from her meager exports to Canada, Britain is unable to repay a cent of the Dominion's heavy contribution in materials. It is a debt that may never be repaid. As to that, Canada raises no issue. She fills unquestioningly all requests made of her. She even asks, from time to time, what more she can do.

Canada has cut her own expenses of government. She has reduced non-essential civilian production. Bacon is rationed, cheese correlated for British consumption, aluminum for civilian use reduced to 2 per cent of normal.

Every metal in Canada except lead is in fact now rationed, as Canadian war industries roll into full production.

The war industries and the armed forces have almost dried up the available sources of Canadian man power, yet those now employed will meet only about 60 per cent of the need that is fast approaching. The next industrial reinforcements must come mainly from the older men, from the women and from youngsters under military age or physically incapacitated for military purposes. The production program envisages the employment of most of the single women and about one in every ten of the married women.

And Mr Mackenzie King could, if he had wished, point to one outstanding demonstration of Canadian patriotism. In the last month not one worker in Canada's immense war industries has downed tools in a strike, despite rising prices and a ceiling on wages which forbids any employer of more than fifty persons to raise his wage scale without the consent of Government.

Kind Words For Canada

QUOTING extracts from Floyd S. Chalmers, editor of the Financial Post, Mr Chalmers says—"lunching with Lord Woolton" he said—"Canada today is the mainstay of the British table." Talking with a Fleet Street editor he said, "Canada has telescoped two decades of advancement into two years of war. She has joined the very top circle of world nations and become a country whose voice will count in world affairs as never before."

RATIONAL PRIDE — A VALUABLE ASSET

Pride— A Co-Operative Ingredient
 By Joseph G. Knapp

Pride is a word that is often in bad repute. It is sometimes associated with smugness or stuck-up-ness. For years we have been warned of it in the old proverb that "Pride goeth before a fall." Yet there is another side to pride which we think of when we say that a man has pride in his home, his family, or his co-operative. In this latter sense pride represents one of the finest motives that exist. A pride based on a wholesome satisfaction in something that we like, a pride that bothers no man but fulfills one's life.

What gives a man pride? Oftentimes, the simple things—such as the fact that his wife is congenial and a good housekeeper, or that his son is healthy and friendly, or that his daughter is pretty and agreeable. These homely satisfactions make all the difference between a full or an empty life. As Poor Richard said, "A little house well filled, a little farm well tilled, and little wife well willed, are great riches."

Pride in one's co-operative is a special kind of pride. It is something like a man's pride in his community or church, or in the fact that he and his fellow man get along well together.

In a co-operative, members should wish to have pride in their association's service, in its facilities, in its balance sheet. If a group of farmers have pride in their co-operative this means that they have accomplished something, for real pride is a natural by-product of something that has been striven for and gained.

If members of a co-operative have pride they make good members for this will impart to them a willingness to do everything with their power to keep their association operating in an efficient manner.

Let's not debunk the importance of pride which implies "a proper sense of dignity and worth." Let's recognize Minister McLarty is seeking a solution of the dispute.

Gold is needed in war time and any dispute as to conditions at this time is not playing the game to the benefit of Canada's War Effort.

It is as a priceless co-operative ingredient that will further co-operative success. Pride can be local or national. We should feel pride in our community, in our state, and in our nation, and we should be able to feel it for our world.

VEERING VERTICALLY

The Creston Review came out with a "bear story" some time ago. Reprinted in the Blairmore Enterprise was a comment of the Brooks Bulletin. To begin with, it seems that two citizens of Creston went out fishing on Goat River. They met a bear with a fish in its mouth. The bear dropped the fish on encountering the men, and the two fishermen picked it up and brought it back to town, with bruin's teeth marks to prove the story. Lissen, you B.C. bums, says the Bulletin, and we'll tell you a real fish story.

When Eli Sandford was section foreman at Cassils, he once went down to Lake Newell to fish. On the shore of the lake he saw a snake with a frog in its mouth. Of course, Eli took the frog away for bait. But being a compassionate soul, Eli took a flask of Scotch out of his hip pocket, and put a couple of drops in the snake's mouth to recompense it for the loss of the frog. Then Eli went on about fishing. Suddenly he felt a tap against his leg, and looking down he saw the snake with another frog in its mouth, holding it up to him. "Are you a Bargain!" War Savings Stamps. There are two kinds of cleverness. One consists of thinking of a bright remark in time to say it; the other consists in thinking of it in time not to say it.

1942 CHEVROLET

Setting a new trend in advanced styling, approved prior to enactment of the war-time passenger car restrictions, Chevrolet for 1942, announced by General Motors of Canada, is presented in two Series—the Master DeLuxe and Fleetline.

The Master DeLuxe Series offers a choice of the following models—Sport Sedan, Town Sedan, Five-Passenger Coupe and Business Coupe, and the Fleetline Series comprises the Aerosedan and Sportmaster Sedan.

A commanding and eye-catching feature of the New Fleetline Aerosedan is the striking, ultra-modern rear end design, the smooth, flowing contours of the all steel Turret-top and sides blending into a smart, sweeping streamline.

A new lower, wider, more massive grille with its heavier bars gives an immediate impression of bigness while the blunter, deeper hood, front splash shield, and more widely spaced Sealed Beam headlights contribute to that effect. Greater length is indicated at once by the new, elongated front fenders, which flow back into the front doors, swinging with the doors as they are opened. The new fender design assures a complete sweep of smooth surface. An ingenious touch is the new foot scraper at the front running board step pad, created by a triangular extension of the new fenders.

The annual dance of the P. B. Club was held in the hall last Friday night. The music furnished by the R. A. F. orchestra from Calgary attracted an unusually large crowd. Net proceeds were approximately $40.00. Lunch was served about midnight and dancing continued till about 2:30, winding up with the singing of "There'll Always be an England" and "God Save the King."

A shower was held on Thursday the 13th at the home of Mrs Chomich for Mary Pat, who recently became the bride of an Australian Airman. There was a goodly number present and the bride was the recipient of several gifts, including cups and saucers, case of silver spoons, a cold meat fork and gravy ladle, luncheon set and towels. Miss Annie Chomich made the presentation and a nice lunch was served.

Miss Gertrude Bassett of Vancouver has been visiting her sister Mrs C. Peterson, and left on Thursday for Patricia near Brooks to visit another sister. She accompanied Mr and Mrs Peterson and family to Vulcan on Sunday last to visit an aunt Mrs Phillips. Frances Cole and Billy Adams were both home for the week end. Mrs Hilliard was recently discharged from the hospital following an operation and is now at Strathmore. Her sister was taking care of the children during her absence.

Under The Street Lamp

A western man travelling on a South railway, and having a series of sudden bumps and unexpected stops, became uneasy.

"Look here," he said to the darky, "is this train safe?"

"It sure am,"

"Well have they a block system on this road?"

The darky grinned. "Block system, sah?" "We hab da greatest block system in da world. Ten miles back we were blocked by a load of hay. Six miles back we were blocked by a mule. Just now we reckon when we get further south we'll be blocked by an alligator. Block system, boss! Well, ah should smile."

Then there is the fable about the musical genius who gave the best years of his life to perfect a melody. At last success came and it was adopted as the theme song for a cereal company's broadcast.

A Queen's University student spent the summer weighing bullfrogs. The job must have kept him on the jump, says the London Free Press. That is, if he didn't croak.

Darrel was home for the day and took the car. Then he picked up Georgina. "Do you know what to do if the car breaks down?" asked her mother. "Certainly, I do!" he replied.

The two were very late returning that night. The fair young daughter rushed into her mother's room.

"Oh mother!" she cried. "The car did break down. But Darrel knew exactly what to do, and—we're engaged."

SOCIAL HOUR AND EDUCATIONAL TALK

Mr Munroe MacLeod gave a most entertaining talk at the social gathering following the evening service in United Church Sunday evening.

tan, and now President of the Canadian Temperance Federation, spoke of the rising protest across Canada against the preventable huge increase in the large amount of money diverted in war time to the alcoholic trade. He also reported that continued pressure is being exercised upon the Dominion cabinet by representatives of the Catholic and Protestant churches to secure the closing of all beer beverage rooms, liquor stores to be open only from 3 p.m. to 8 p.m., all advertising except in place of sale be disallowed, after the above has been effected that the Department of Defence close all wet canteens.

The speaker took up several well known nursery rhymes, such as "Little Jack Horner," "Little Boy Blue Come Blow your Horn," etc. and explained that they were in reality satires on the political and social life of the times, Mr MacLeod giving the significance and condition referred to in each rhyme. It proved a very interesting talk.

Mr Crowther called to address the gathering by Rev. Mr Hunt explained some of the motives and methods in modern education. He asked the interested co-operation of all in becoming acquainted with the new conditions.

THE WEEK IN EDMONTON

(BY DAN E. CAMPBELL)
 (Director of Publicity)

● Faculty of Education—

The Alberta Teachers' Association submitted a brief urging the establishment of a faculty of education at the university, the faculty to have complete control over the training of high school teachers. On the same theme, a submission by the Edmonton Social Credit Constituency Association urged a four-year course leading to a degree, with courses now offered by summer school taught by graduates providing credits. Dr. C. B. Willis was spokesman for this body.

● Suggested Changes in U. of A. Board—

Among other proposals submitted were several pertaining to the governors and senate. It was urged that 6-year appointments should be discontinued in favor of three-year appointments, that the number of appointed members be reduced to six, two to be appointed for three-year terms. The present board has 13 members. It was urged also that the authority of the board be extended to include powers now extended to the senate, and that the senate be retained in an advisory capacity. The present senate of 55 members exercises academic powers, it was desirable, said Dr. Willis, that authority be placed in one place, so real control would be in the hands of the taxpayers through the provincial government.

● Increased Salaries—

Longer Hours—
 The same body also urged that university salaries be raised to warrant competent teachers remaining in service; that teaching hours be increased and staff reduced to warrant such increases in salaries that a method of checking for efficiency be established, with retirement of the inefficient; that professors be required to take courses in university teaching, with salary increases for credits; that trained advisers guide students along vocational lines and personal adjustment.

● Alberta's industrial expansion continues apace, and in a large number of fields the gains were marked during the first seven months of 1941. The latest report of the department of trade and industry shows that lumber production has gained 121 per cent, coal, 10 per cent, oil, 35 per cent, clay products 40 per cent, lime 17 per cent, natural gas 6 per cent, cement 127 per cent, also showing gains were coarse grains 51 per cent, butter 61 per cent, cheese 29 per cent, cattle exports 24 per cent, packing plant sales 50 per cent, flour milling 39 per cent, concentrated milk 40 per cent.

KITCHEN KINKS

● To water house plants, sprinkle them with the clothes sprinkler in the neck of teh bottle of water, or splash them with a whisk broom dipped in water. Set them in the sink, the bath tub or outdoors for this treatment.

● When a dust mop becomes soiled, it may be washed in hot suds. It should be dried as quickly as possible. Hang it on teh line in the sun on a windy day. To renew a dust mop, pour on it a few drops of light lubricating oil or any good floor oil. Set it in a tin box or pail for a day or two until the oil has distributed itself throughout the mop. Dust cloths may be treated in the same way, or may be dampened with turpentine and allowed to stand until thoroughly permeated.

● To keep diced fruits for salad, cocktails or desserts from turning dark, cover them with grapefruit juice.

● Contrary to popular belief, high ceilinged rooms are no cooler than rooms with low ceilings.

● Rub the electric iron once a week with paraffin applied on a soft cloth. This will keep the iron clean and smooth.

● A tablespoon of lemon juice added to the egg in which fish is dipped before trying gives it a delicious flavor.

● When two classes have stuck together, try this—Drop a little glycerine between them; after a few minutes the glycerine will have lubricated them so that they will separate with a little twisting.

LEADER MEIGHEN

The new leader is known throughout the country as a clever man, who has both led the government of the day and been leader of the opposition in various governments. He will be able to match wits with Prime Minister King, and through his experience make constructive criticism which should result in increased efficiency in our war effort.

WORLD'S WEEK

BY HAROLD L. WEIR

Associate Editor and Daily Columnist of the Edmonton Bulletin

The resurgence of militant optimism noted in Prime Minister Churchill's recent speech at Mansion House and in Wendell L. Willkie's stirring broadcast to Poland, has again raised the question of how and when Great Britain and her Allies, present and future, plan to deal the telling blow to Hitler which seems to be regarded as inevitable.

While the present current of optimism is based primarily on Germany's failure to run the Russian campaign according to plan, most experts seem to agree that the partial failure of one German campaign is not in itself sufficient to bring the Nazis tumbling from power.

What they are all looking for is a soft spot in Germany's thick armor through which the stiletto can be driven and for the stiletto which the Allies are eventually going to use to inflict the fatal blow.

So far both Great Britain and Russia have been fighting an almost purely defensive war and speculation with regard to future moves has been concerned primarily with the strengthening of the Allies' defensive position. The establishment of a "second front," about which the whole world has been talking, has been regarded universally as a means of sustaining the Russians and of preventing a German walk-over in all of Europe rather than as a means of beating Germany to her knees.

Even now most realists are principally concerned with the possibility of a great diversion which would prevent Germany from conquering all the richest regions of European Russia and the Caucasus; the prospects of a great offensive blow against the Germans which would knock Germany out of the war are regarded as so distant as to be still out of sight.

England's immediate job, with the assistance of the United States, is to maintain supplies to Britain, to build up forces adequate to repulse a really serious invasion attempt, to prevent the German Luftwaffe from crippling Britain's industries and ports, and to fortify the Near East sufficiently to prevent a German drive into Iran, Syria, Palestine, Egypt and ultimately India itself.

This first job is defensive, pure and simple.

It might very well involve the defense of the Caucasus by an advanced British force but whether that is to be done is not yet clear.

The second job, which can be accomplished only after the first one is done, is to start hitting the Germans and Italians where it will hurt them the most and then to follow up the first punches until either the main forces of the Axis are destroyed or there is a complete collapse behind the lines.

This second job will require vast numbers of men and vast quantities of such things as guns, tanks, and planes which cannot be obtained out of any wishing well.

When these things are available several fields of activity will be available, the first and most conspicuous being Italian North Africa.

While there is no reason to believe that the British have directed their plans elsewhere in the western world, it is obvious that the Balkans, French North Africa, Italy and other places in maritime Europe might be practicable—if ships, men, planes and tanks are available.

The important fact today is that the Allies still are on the defensive—in the Atlantic, in Russia, in Britain, and even in Africa—and that they will probably remain so until supplies of the wherewithal for an offensive are much greater than they are now.

According to the best indications in the Soviet capital, the appointment of Maxim M. Litvinov as Russia's ambassador to Washington is a source of genuine satisfaction among leading Russians.

Litvinov's qualities as a statesman are as fully appreciated by his own people as they are abroad and quite apart from the political considerations involved, his new role is regarded as just recognition of his ability and intelligence.

Litvinov's standing is especially high among the intelligentsia and despite the fact that for two years following his retirement as foreign commissar he was rarely seen or heard of, this universal respect for his qualities remains undiminished.

Litvinov's re-emergence from the background has domestic as well as international significance. For this man of amiable personality and ready wit is blessed with the faculty of being able to get along well with Americans and Britons—an attribute of which all Russian diplomats are not possessed.

Litvinov's comeback was first indicated by the prominent role he took during the recent Russo-British-American conferences in Moscow, and his appointment to Washington provides another concrete manifestation to the Russian people of their government's

WORLD OF WHEAT

Director— "The Crop Testing Plan"

Good seed, I believe, will be scarce this year, for many of the crops grown by some of our best seed growers have been damaged either by drought, by savflies, or by the unusually wet fall. Some of these same conditions have prevailed over the spring wheat belt in the United States and in Eastern Canada. It is expected, therefore, that there will soon be a strong demand from the United States and from our East for prairie seeds. Prairie farmers, therefore, might well consider the advisability of making arrangements for their supplies of good seed as early as possible.

In almost every district there will be found farmers whose crops graded 'A' by the Crop Testing Plan. These farmers will have good seed to sell in quantity and at reasonable prices to their neighbors. Next highest in quality comes Certified seed, both in bulk and sealed in the sack, but the highest quality of all is Registered seed, inspected in the field and in the sack by officials of the Canadian Seed Growers' Association and of the Dominion Government. Such seed can always be relied upon. A few bushels of high quality seed sown on clean summerfall is one of the very best investments that any farmer can make.
